

South Island NZDep2006 Cartogram

This cartogram offers an alternative visualisation of the NZDep2006 data.

The distorted image occurs because each meshblock is depicted in proportion to population density rather than in proportion to land area.

The cartogram therefore focuses attention on the densely populated areas.

For further explanation and information please refer to the Atlas of Socioeconomic Deprivation in New Zealand NZDep2006 (White et al 2008).
